

HERALD, BAPTIST,

FRIDAY - APRIL 21, 1837.

PAY UP.—An note made to this office for J. W. Scott, & co. and their successors, now suggests to make payment to the trustees from the date of their note, & that they will have to pay the same amount, as well as give him interest.

We note that Chas. H. Garrison, late Representative from Adams county, who advocated the abolition of the Slaveholding, and lately declared himself in favor of a "no-tax law," has been foisted by his opponents. Thus Abolition, by an overwhelming majority. This is as it should be. Col. Garrison, being left at home, can now have leisure to ponder well upon the disorganizing doctrines which he has become the advocate.

We are authorized to announce LEWIS M. GARRETT Esq., a candidate to represent the people of this county in the next Legislature, elected at the election in November next.

WE are authorized to announce WILLIS RILEY, as a candidate for the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court, for this county at the next November elections.

We have received the first and second numbers of the "Brandon Republican & Eastern Advocate." It is edited by Ray Haddock Esq., and promises to be an able and efficient supporter of true political doctrines.

We hail this new accession to the periodicals of Mississippi, and can only say to its editor, go on with the undertaking you have so well begun.

THE BRANDON BANK.—This institution is beginning to recover public confidence. We have no doubt, that the general outcry against it, has been greater than the circumstances warranted, and has tended, in a great degree, to injure its credit abroad.—The following extract from the Brandon Republican will show that all's right.

Mississippi and Alabama Rail Road Company.

Great as has been the outcry against the paper of this company, time begins to demonstrate that all is right.

The friends of the Bank and holders of her bills are assured that the best evidence of the solvency of this institution is the fact of her continuing specie payments at home, and the consummation of an arrangement previously entered into for the redemption of her paper abroad. The New York and Philadelphia Bills are now redeemed there.

We pretend not to know the secrets of the bank, but we understand that the bills are as good as "wheat." Will the papers that have been so lavish of abuse towards the managers of this institution just have the goodness to speak of things as they are! "Nothing extenuate," &c. Justice to an oppressed institution requires that the truth should be disseminated in regard to her concerns.—Had she been dealt fairly with, she might now avert the impending ruin of hundreds of our best citizens. So great has been the want of confidence in this money abroad, that the very basest motives have been ascribed to the President and directors, when, in truth, they have acted in good faith throughout. To the holders of the paper we say, do not suffer yourselves to be shaved out of one cent—all is right; and to those unacquainted with the directory, we say that where they are known, they are considered gentlemen above suspicion.

By the New York Star of the 3d inst, we learn that, notwithstanding the prayers and petitions of the people, it is the deliberate intention of the Executive, to keep the Treasury edict in force, until actually driven to its repeal, by the majesty of public opinion.

Mr. Attorney General Butler, candidly admits that this intention has been formed in order to preserve the Deposite Banks from falling—the inevitable consequence, he says, of a repeal of the Specie circular.

The present condition of the Pet Banks, may be gathered from the following statement of Mr. Butler, as reported by the Star.

"He represented that the depo-bans will not, even under the most favorable circumstances, be able to pay the next quarter's instalment of the surplus ordered to be distributed among the States, without greatly distressing their creditors, and that if the small specie basis, which now barely sustains their circulations and agreements, should be so much diminished, it would be idle to expect them to pay one dollar of what they owe the government."

Subjoined to the above is a list of houses engaged in the southern trade, which have been compelled to stop payment.

[Natchez Journal.]

Two very important bills have been introduced in the Legislature of New York both of which, it is believed, will be enacted into laws. The first relates to usury, repealing all former laws upon the subject, making the debt entirely void and subjecting the receiver of usury to fine and imprisonment. The offender is also compelled to testify in any suit he may bring against him, and if he fails to do so, he may be compelled to give evidence against himself.

See our review over the New York Express, which gives full details of the article.

The other bill contemplates a more extraordinary change in the banking business of the State, by giving to private individuals and companies the privilege of banking under certain restrictions. For the particulars we must refer the reader to the article from the New York Express, under the head of city news.
